Good service in Fremont

MY CAR broke down on Interstate 680 just before Mission Boulevard.

There were mixups with tow calls, and after waiting three hours at night, a California Highway Patrol officer (name unknown) called an efficient tow truck driver named Tom who arrived within 15 minutes.

He towed me to a repair shop (after hours). When I checked with them the next day, they stated they couldn't help me.

I then called information, asking to be connected with the dealers' repair department. Instead I was connected with Autotek in Fremont, which turned out to have the most helpful auto manager, Peter Plank, I have ever met.

He helped me get towed to his shop, examined the car, then gave me an honest and expert opinion. He also allowed me time to explore my options.

I would recommend this auto repair shop to anyone.
